I. READING COMPREHENSION

① Tara Whiteman, from Sydney, has turned her travels into a lucrative and rewarding career by blogging under Tara Milk Tea and sharing her postcard-like snaps with more than 840,000 Instagram followers. The 23-year-old globetrotter has explored more than 30 countries. "I love the experience," she revealed. "Travelling makes me so appreciative of life. I enjoy sharing my experiences online so that others might be inspired to visit as well," she added. From going on a giant swing in Bali to frolicking in a field of sunflowers in France, Tara has been leading a fulfilling life out of her suitcase.

② "I've always loved creativity, and being able to turn photography from a hobby into a job has been my lifelong dream," Tara said. She insisted she didn't have any secrets behind taking the perfect snaps. However, she ensured all her images match on Instagram by posting photos that were bursting with bright colours. She managed to strike a balance between creating content at exotic locations and enjoying the moment. "I sometimes leave my accommodation for a day without a camera or phone. Getting lost is fun. I try to do this in every city so I can get a different perspective," she added.

③ Supporting her lifestyle through her travel-focused blog, Tara made it possible to sustain her adventures after her sumptuous Instagram account attracted much attention. "I've always enjoyed photography, ever since I was a teenager. Travelling is fulfilling, too. I love seeing different cultures and ways of life," she said. Since leaving high school for university, the young student has worked in Marketing and Public Relations in connection with her degree. In spite of working full time while studying, she has been juggling her honours at university. "I'm currently completing my degree," Tara declared. "I'll be travelling again through summer to Hawaii and Japan. I'll also visit my family in Singapore over Christmas."

III- Language (6 marks)

1. Fill in the blanks with six (6) words from the box. (3 marks)

brilliantly– out –desperate–began – inventor – fascinated – perseverance – study

I love sciences. I have been fascinated by the idea of becoming a scientist since I was a little kid. So choosing business as a field of study was something that I really felt passionate about. It was not only because owning a business was interesting to me, but also because portraying myself as a risk-taking inventor was appealing. Being from Honduras, a poor Latin American country, didn't hamper my perseverance. Despite the scarcity of resources, I began to teach myself computer science and digital electronics. This is how I brilliantly came up with the Eye board, an inexpensive eye-tracking system that costs less than $300.

2. Put the bracketed words in the correct TENSE or FORM: (3 marks)

Sandra was at work when she fainted for the first time in her life. Doctors were called and the tests they performed (show) showed heart problems and high blood pressure. The heart specialist told her that if she didn't change her lifestyle and lose weight, it (take) would take years off her life. She decided right then to take action. She wanted and needed to be (health) healthy for her children and grandchildren. She knew she needed help to make the many necessary changes to have a good lifestyle, so she (choose) chose a commercial weight loss program with individualized support and started her new life. Through the support of the program, she lost 42 Kg. Since then, she has been invested with more energy to (full) fully enjoy her family. Support from a personal consultant added to her husband's (assist) assistance helped her change her habits for the better.
